Monte RORAIMA

También conocido como Tepuy

RORAIMA es una montaña que hace divisa con tres países diferentes: Brasil, Guyana y Venezuela. Su aspecto es único y espectacular. Tiene acantilados de 400 metros de altura. Es una de las formaciones geológicas más antiguas de la Tierra.

Algunas curiosidades sobre RORAIMA:

- Ha sido llamado de "La Madre de Todas las Aguas"
- Hay un estado brasileño que se llama RORAIMA
- Ha sido inspiración cinematográfica de "Mundo Perdido", "Up" de Disney y "La Distancia más larga".
- Su punto más alto es llamado "Maverik"
- El significado de RORAIMA según los pemones taurepanes: La palabra "roroi" significa "verde azulado"; y la palabra "ma" quiere decir "grande". Es el "Gran Verde azulado".

Todos los nombres de los productos de fabricación propia Everest tienen nombre de montaña. Hemos decidido nombrar nuestra serie de mesas y carros auxiliares RORAIMA por su superficie tan plana que nos remite a una mesa y por hacer nuestro homenaje particular a tal Maravilla.

RORAIMA Mount

Also known as Tempuy

RORAIMA is a mountain that borders three different countries: Brazil, Guyana and Venezuela. Its appearance is unique and spectacular. It has cliffs of 400 meters high. It is one of the oldest geological formations on Earth.

Some curiosities about RORAIMA:

- It has been named "Mother of All Waters"
- There is a Brazilian state named RORAIMA
- It has been the cinematic inspiration for "Lost World", "Up" by Disney and "The Longest Distance".
- Its highest point is called "Maverik"
- The meaning of RORAIMA according to the Pemón Taurepanes: The word "roro" means "blue-green"; and the word "ima" means "big". It is the "Big Blue Green".

All the names of our own manufactured Everest products have mountain names. We have decided to name our table and trolley series RORAIMA due to its flat surface that is so reminiscent of a table and for rendering our own particular homage to such a Wonder.
